The Town of Lincoln was established in 1754 when the inhabitants of the "Easterly part of Concord and Southwesterly part of Lexington and the Northerly part of Weston" petitioned the Legislature to form a new town.

19 sheets at end of book

An Act for erecting a new Town within the County of middle by the name of Lincoln April the 23 Anno Dom. 1754

Whereas the Inhabitants of the Easterly part of Concord, the Southwesterly part of Lexington, & the Northerly part of Weston have Addressed this Court, setting forth the many Difficulties they now Labour under, which might be Effectually remedied if they were constituted a Township:

Be it therefore Enacted by the Governour, Council & House of Representatives, That the Easterly part of the said Town of Concord, the Southwesterly part of the said Town of Lexington, & the Northerly part of the said Town of Weston, as hereafter set forth, & separate & distinct Township by the name of Lincoln: The bounds of the said Township to be as follows, viz. To begin at Concord River where the Line goes over said River, between Concord & Sudbury, & runs down said River, to a Brook that runs out of Well-meadow (so called) from thence to the southeasterly side of Walden pond (so called) from thence to the Northwesterly side of Walden pond (so called) belonging to Daniel

An informational graphic for Minute Man National Historical Park, Paul Revere Capture Site. It features a statue of a minuteman on the left, a map of the area on the right, and text describing the park's history and the Battle Road Trail. The text includes: "Minute Man National Historical Park was the starting place of the American Revolution, here the resolve of citizens willing to risk their lives for the ideals of liberty and self-determination was instrumental in the formation of the American identity." and "The park preserves sites where Colonial militia men and British soldiers clashed on April 19, 1775. A force of 700 British soldiers left Boston to seize military supplies stockpiled in Concord. Alarm riders alerted the countryside. In area towns, militia companies assembled, ready to defend their communities and their liberties if necessary." and "After brief battles at Lexington Green (9 a.m.) and Concord's North Bridge (9:30 a.m.) fighting moved along the 'Battle Road.' As the British troops marched toward Boston, militia companies poured in. By afternoon, 4,000 Colonial militiamen 'stood firm' upon the British rear. At the end of the day, the Colonists surrounded and laid to waste the British. The Revolutionary War had begun." The map shows the route from Lexington to Concord and back. Below the map is a section titled "The Battle Road Trail" which states: "This five-mile trail from Meriam's Corner to Fiske Hill provides pedestrian, bicycle and wheelchair access to many cultural and natural sites within the park. The trail visits battle sites, agricultural fields, colonial homes and taverns, forests, fragile wetlands, and historic landmarks. Portions of the trail are on the Battle Road where the British column marched; other sections follow stone walls and farm lanes traversed by the Colonists. Many visitors begin their tour by viewing the exhibits and orientation program at the Minute Man Visitor Center." There are also small images of the trail and a sign that reads "BLOODY BUTCHERY: BRITISH TROOPS: AT THE REVOLUTION".

TOWN MEETING

Students craft warrant article

Submitted by Elena Christenfeld, Colin Christian, Allie Dwyer, Greer Harden, Amalia Munn and Irene Terpstra

We are six eighth-grade students, the Warrant Article Group, who have been meeting every Monday (when it hasn't snowed) since September with Sarah Cannon Holden, town moderator, and Susan F. Brooks, town clerk. Our purpose is to learn how town government works by going through the process of getting a Citizens' Petition presented to Town Meeting at the end of March. We talked about several ideas before the Parks & highest priority field for a cost of $7,000. The other was to clear an overgrown evacuation site behind the Smith School where students and faculty would gather if an emergency occurred. There is also a school garden in the area that is blocked by the brush. The estimate for this plan was $2,500. We met with Detective Ian Spencer from the Lincoln Police Department who fully supports our idea. He also was concerned about this spot as a safety hazard.

We took the idea of the $9,500 project to the CapCom. The committee members asked a lot of questions and suggested that this could be an

БЕСПЛАТНЫЙ «ФАЙЛ СПАСЕНИЯ»!

Для чего нужен «ФАЙЛ СПАСЕНИЯ»?

Скорая несется по дороге. Сирены воют, включены маячки. Скорая медицинская помощь спешит к вашему дому. Когда они приезжают, вы без сознания, и у них мало фактов, на которые можно опереться. Есть ли у вас заболевания? Принимаете ли вы в настоящее время какие-то лекарства? Если ли у вас аллергия?

Такой нерадостный сценарий, к сожалению, не редкость для пожилых людей и сотрудников скорой помощи, которые приезжают на вызов. Вот почему Совет по вопросам пожилого населения и пожарная охрана разработали и рекомендуют вести ФАЙЛ СПАСЕНИЯ — мини-историю болезни в яркой красной обложке, которую можно повесить на дверцу холодильника.

Карточка ФАЙЛА позволит врачам узнать важную медицинскую информацию, когда вы не в состоянии ее предоставить. Карта также исключает риск недополучения медицинской информации о себе или близком человеке, что иногда происходит из-за тревоги и волнения.

Карта хранится в красной пластиковой папке с надписью FILE OF LIFE, содержит ваше имя, экстренные медицинские контакты, страховой полис, имя лечащего врача и доверенного лица по вопросам медицинской помощи, важную информацию о здоровье, дозировке лекарств, аллергии, недавних операциях, вероисповедании. Папка крепится на магните на дверцу холодильника.

Lincoln Public Library

The Lincoln Public Library in 1884. The Library building was a gift to the Town by George Grosvenor Tarbell (1807-1889). It was designed in the Victorian Romanesque style by Boston architect William G. Preston (1842-1910). This photograph was taken by George A. Nelson (1822-1912), grandson of one of Lincoln's Revolutionary War veterans. (Courtesy of Lincoln Town Archives, Lincoln, MA)

“Once my kids were older and I had more time, I was encouraged to join town government. From my perspective I was motivated to give back to the town for all that the town I felt was providing to us!

I served on the Finance Committee, on the Select Board, on the four-town Hanscom board [HATS], on the Capital Planning Committee, the Bemis Hall Building Committee, and on the School Building Committee (for the current building). I am also a Trustee of the Lincoln Public Library, and I worked on the town’s Comprehensive Master Plan.”

An old tradition is revived

By Margie Cady
Staff Writer

Lincoln's oldest resident, 96 year-old Thomas R. Morse, was awarded the Boston Post Cane in a ceremony held at Bemis Hall Sunday.

The tradition of awarding the cane to a community's oldest resident began in 1909, as part of a publicity stunt for the Boston Post. Over 400 canes were distributed to cities and towns throughout Massachusetts, and about 250 of the canes are apparently still circulating.

Harriet Todd presented the gold-tipped cane to Morse. Todd gave additional background on the tradition.

"The original idea was to give it to the oldest male, but as early as the 1930s, women were also included," said Todd. The audience laughed when Todd added that it was often difficult to identify the town's oldest female because many women refused to reveal their age.

Morse briefly addressed the audience after accepting the cane. "I hope you live as long as I do, to find things to do and enjoy life," said Morse.

Four generations of the Morse family were on hand for the ceremony. Hugh Morse noted his father's accomplishments. As a Lt. Commander in the Navy during World War II, Thomas Morse ran a recreational facility in Guam, known as "the longest bar in all the Pacific," said his son. After the war, Morse was in charge of the financial affairs of a Boston businessman.

Entertainment was provided by the Lincoln-Sudbury Regional High School Concert Choir and soloists. The choir performed "The Nightingale," "Oft in the Stilly Night," and "Gloria." Piano soloists Michael Dansereau and Chris Kurth also performed, with Dansereau playing "Blue in Green," and Kurth performing "Prelude in G Minor."

Morse delighted the audience when he agreed to perform an impromptu piano recital of "The Blue Danube."

Hugh Morse said his father enjoyed the ceremony. "He loves this. I didn't think for a minute he'd play the piano, but he's just having a ball," said Morse.

Thomas Morse added his comments. "I'm very much honored and delighted to have this cane," he said. With a twinkle in his eye, Morse said that he would also like to thank the Boston Post, but noted that the paper is no longer around.

“When my kids were young, I was very involved with the PTA serving in different positions, one being vice president of the PTA for the Brooks Building (then the middle school). I also served on the Recreation Committee and Lincoln Youth Soccer Committee.

It was after my daughter got married at the Pierce House in 2011 that I joined the Pierce House Committee because I loved the house and wanted to help keep it as an important piece of Lincoln’s history.”

“Volunteering to serve the Town was a result of “nature” and “nurture”. I have lived in Lincoln for 65 years and raised my family here. I went to Town Meeting as a teenager, and over the decades I witnessed my parents, neighbors, and friends’ parents actively participating on various committees and boards.

When my “nest” emptied, I seized the opportunity to give back to the Town. I served on the Select Board, Finance Committee, Community Preservation Committee, Capital Planning Committee, and Pierce House Committee.”

I think in 25 years the school will have expanded once again and they will have a cafeteria with hot lunches. I also think all the sport teams will get new uniforms. I also hope there will be alot more Pentiums instead of all Macs in the computer lab.

Hopefully, in 25 years, people will recognize my name because I will own a very popular computer game company and I will be a billionaire!

Truthfully, I hope 7th grade in 2020 is better than it is in 1995

“[I volunteered because] I was asked!...and I didn't let the doubt over whether I was qualified or able to find time dissuade me. I've always found the ideals of service and community to be strong in Lincoln, starting with our experience as parents at the Lincoln Nursery School cooperative, where I met many other active volunteer parents and slowly increased my volunteer hours.

Many neighbors I met were volunteers or founders of various local boards and committees, and when they asked if I could help, I was happy to do what I could to give back to this wonderful community. In return, I met many wonderful people, learned a lot, and significantly increased my feeling of connection to Lincoln.”
